

Career Options

Melani Hagge

Teacher (Secondary)

The five major tasks of a teacher is plan, evaluate, assign lessons; prepare, administer, and grade tests; teaches students how to apply and learn concepts of a certain subject; maintain classroom discipline; and listen to oral presentations.

Teachers usually work over 40 hours a week. Some work in good environments, but other work in old buildings that lack modern facilities.

In order to become a teacher you need to have at least four years of college and take student teach. The range of average yearly earnings is $28,590-$76,100.

Correctional Officer

Correctional Officers work an 8 hour day, 5 days a week on rotating shifts. They work indoor or outdoor. Some institutions are well lighted, temperature controlled, and ventilated, but others are old, crowded, hot and noisy.

Five major tasks are to report inmate conduct and quality and quantity of work done. Report security breaches, disturbances, and violations of the rules. They search inmates and living quarters for contraband and settle inmate disputes. They also enforce discipline.

Jobs in this field are expected to go up 16% by 2016. There is expected to be excellent opportunities because of thousands of jobs will be opening up every year.

Archaeologist/ Anthropologist

In this job five tasks you will do are examine and recover material evidence; determine history, culture, and living habits of early civilizations; analyze environmental factors that may have affected a society; examine the way people live; and analyze how culture and biology affect each other.

You will usually work in a remote area and live with the people that you are studying. Staying long periods at your digging site is very common. You sometimes need to be ready for heavy physical activity in this job.

Speed of growth for this job is expected to stay average. Jobs will be opening up more in management, scientific, and technical industry. There will also be a need for archaeologists in overseeing construction sites.